SECTION 2: MANUFACTURE

Sources Laws, regulations and administrative procedures

- PoA II.2 4. Are there any SALW manufactured in your country? Yes
- 4.1. Does your country have laws, regulations and/or administrative procedures to exercise effective control over the manufacture of SALW? Yes
- 4.1.1 List laws, regulations and/or administrative procedures regulating the manufacture of SALW in your country
- The manufacture and production of SALW in India is controlled by Government of India. The manufacture of SALW is regulated under a licensing system established by the Arms Acts (1959) and Arms Rules (1962). Sections 5 and 7 of the Arms Act (1959) and Article 20 of Arms Rules (1962) prohibit the manufacture, transfer and repair of any SALW without a license. Through the licensing mechanism, Government of India is able to regulate the categories and types of weapons which may be manufactured and the transactions which may be carried out in their respect. SALW for armed forces/ police as well as for civilian use are primarily manufactured by Indian Ordnance Factories controlled by the Ministry of Defence. These factories are engaged in the manufacture of all categories of small arms. The policy of the Government of India for manufacture of arms and ammunition in the private sector is based on the Industrial Policy Resolution, 1956. The private sector is primarily engaged in the manufacture of single and double-barrel guns and air rifles/ pistols. Even after liberalisation of the Indian economy and removal of licensing regime for major industries, the manufacture of arms like revolvers, pistols and rifled weapons – and ammunition thereof – has not been allowed in the private sector by the Government of India.
- 4.1.2. Does your country license the manufacture of SALW? Yes
- PoA II.3 4.1.3. Is illegal manufacture of SALW considered a criminal offence in your country? Yes

Sources Marking of manufacture

- PoA II.7; ITI 3a 4.2. Does your country require that SALW be marked at the time of manufacture? Yes

ITI 10a

4.2.2. What part of the SALW is marked?

All small arms produced/ manufactured in India are uniquely marked. This applies to arms that are produced for private/ personal use and those which are used by armed forces, police or Para-military forces. The Arms Act (1959) provides (Section 8) that arms which do not bear specified identification marks may not be sold or transferred. The SALW produced by Indian ordnance factories are marked by stamping/ engraving or laser marking to indicate the type/ nomenclature of the weapon, 'IN' for India for country of origin, registration number, manufacturer/ factory of origin and the year of manufacture on one or more of the vital and critical components of a small arm - the body, the chamber, the cylinder, the breech block, piston extension/Slide/Carrier and the barrel - during the final stages of production. A record of each and every weapon manufactured by the factory is kept along with the information on the concerned dealer/ indenter to show receipts, disposal, balance of stock in hand, the daily sales of Arms and Ammunition of different categories and provide such other information as may be required. Allotment of these registration numbers for the armed forces/ police and para-military forces is done centrally and a record is maintained of these registration numbers along with the indent. This provides for a double check on the records. Private sector manufacturers of firearms such as single, double barrel guns and air rifles/ pistols are required by law to get every firearm stamped to show: the maker's name and registered trademark; the serial number of the weapons as entered in his register and the year of stamping; and proof-mark (Arms Rules 1962 Rule 25). The parts of the weapons to be marked are also specified under these provisions. In order to implement the international instrument on marking and tracing of SALW, suitable instructions have now been given by the Government of India to the States to ensure that the country of origin ie word 'IN' is suitably marked on all arms manufactured by the private sector arms manufacturers. The Government of India has issued necessary instructions to all procurement agencies of the three Services not to import any small arms which do not have markings indicating country of origin. Towards this, the following article in the Request for Proposal (RFP) for import of SALW has been included. "In terms of para 8(a) of the International Instrument to enable States to identify and trace in a timely and reliable manner, illicit small arms and light weapons as adopted by the United National General Assembly on 8th December 2005, at the time of manufacture of each small arm or light weapon under their jurisdiction or control, the supplier shall ensure unique marking providing the name of the manufacturer, the country of manufacture and serial number or maintain any alternative unique user friendly marking with simple geometry symbols in combination with numeric and alpha numeric code, permitting ready identification by all. The manufacturer will confirm compliance with these provisions".

4.2.3 Are there exceptions to the requirement to mark SALW at the time of manufacture?

PoA II.6

4.4. During the reporting period, was action taken against groups or individuals engaged in illegal manufacturing of SALW (e.g. prosecution)?

Yes

4.4.1. Details.

Government of India has enacted Arms act 1959 wherein specific Section prescribe penal provisions, moreover there are several other laws which have penal provisions related to illegal possession, manufacture etc of SALW. These include Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act 1967 as amended in September, 2004, Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act, Indian Penal Code, the Army Act and the analogous laws. Groups and Individuals found to be in violation of these law are being prosecuted in various courts.

International assistance

PoA III.6

5. Does your country wish to request assistance in developing laws, regulations and/or administrative procedures regarding SALW manufacture?

No

SECTION 3: INTERNATIONAL TRANSFERS

Sources Laws, regulations and administrative procedures

PoA II.2, 12

6. Does your country have laws, regulations or administrative procedures to exercise effective control over the export, import, transit or retransfer of SALW?

Yes

PoA II.11

6.1. List laws, regulations or administrative procedures to exercise effective control over the export, import, transit or retransfer of SALW.

SALW in India are regulated statutorily under the Arms Act (1959) and Arms Rules (1962), amended from time to time. These legislation and various executive instructions from Central and State governments have evolved a sound mechanism for effective control and regulation of SALW in India. The Arms Act (1959) and Arms Rules (1962) cover all aspects of lawful possession, manufacture, sale, transfer, transport, export, import of arms and ammunition, and provide penal provisions for violation of these acts. The Arms Act (1959) and Arms Rules (1962) are Central Government legislation and State Governments have a specified role in their implementation. The provisions of the Arms Act and Arms Rules seek to classify fire arms and other prohibitive weapons so as to ensure that (i) dangerous weapons of Military patterns are not available to civilians and are in particular denied to criminals and that (ii) weapons for self defence can be possessed by citizens in special cases only under duly issued licenses. As per entry 5 of List 1 of the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution of India, the Central Government has the exclusive jurisdiction on matters relating to arms, firearms, ammunition and explosives. The Ministry of Home Affairs of the Indian Government administers the Arms Act and has taken comprehensive measures to arrest the proliferation and trafficking in small arms and light weapons. The violators of the provisions of the Arms Act are meted out punitive punishments as provided in the Arms Act which range from imprisonment with fine to capital punishment.

Licensing and authorisation

PoA II.11

6.2. Does a person or an entity who transfers SALW require a licence or other form of authorisation to transfer SALW from/into your country?

Yes

- PoA II.3 6.3. Is it a criminal offence to trade SALW without a licence or authorisation, or to do so in a manner that is in contradiction to the terms of a licence or authorisation, in your country? Yes
- PoA II.11 6.4. Name the relevant international commitments that your Government applies or considers when assessing an application for export authorisation.
 Government of India has in place a stringent national export control system which takes into account international standards and best practices and has taken marked steps to align its strategic trade control system with the guidelines and practices of the multilateral regimes by updating its national control list and modifying its licensing procedures. The Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act No. 22 of 1992 or FTDR (As amended by the FTDR Amendment Act 2010) is a key legal instrument governing India's strategic trade control system. The FTDR empowers Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) to licence the export and import of controlled items on the Indian Tariff Classification (Harmonized System) or ITC (HS List), Table A (S. No. 4) of Schedule 2 of ITC(HS) list lays down policy for export of Military Stores including SALW. 'No-Objection Certificate' (NOC) from the Department of Defence Production and Supplies, Ministry of Defence is mandatory for export of SALW. The grant of an NOC is subject, inter alia, to an end-user certificate-on a government-to-government basis-and in conformity with foreign policy objectives-which includes a ban on exports to countries under UNSC embargo. In addition, provisions of the Arms Act (1959) and Arms Rules (1962) have very stringent provisions governing the export and import of small arms. Section 10 of the Arms Act (1959) requires that any one intending to engage in export/ import of arms should first acquire the requisite license. Furthermore, license for export is not granted for automatic weapons and weapons which are in use by the police or armed forces of the country, weapons of "current and popular bore" (Section 33, Arms Rules (1962)) for which ammunition is available domestically, and certain antique weapons. Similarly import of arms by individuals or commercial entities is permitted only against a license. Such imports are, as a rule, allowed only to renowned shooters/ rifle clubs for their own use on the recommendation of the concerned Government Department. Furthermore, under the Exim Policy, transfer of the imported firearm/s is not permitted during the lifetime of the importer/ licensee.
- PoA II.12 6.5. What kind of documentation does your country require prior to authorising an export of SALW to another country?
 a) An end-user certificate (EUC) from the importing country
 i) What elements does an end-user certificate in your country contain (check relevant boxes)?
 1) Detailed description (type, quantity, characteristics) of the SALW or technology
 2) Contract number or order reference and date
 3) Final destination country
 4) Description of the end-use of the SALW
 5) Exporter's details (name, address and business name)
 6) End-user information (name, position, full address and original signature)
 7) Information on other parties involved in the transaction
 8) Certification by the relevant government authorities of the authenticity of the end-user
 9) Date of issue
 10) Other
 b) Other types of end-user documentation
- 6.6. When exporting, does your country places any restriction on re-export of SALW? Yes
 If so, what are the restrictions placed on re-export?
 a) Re-export permitted only when there is prior notification No
 b) Re-export permitted only when there is prior approval Yes
- PoA II.12 6.7. Does your country verify or seek to authenticate EUCs or other types of end-user documentation provided? Yes
 6.7.1 Details:
 Only original EUCs duly authorised are accepted.
- 6.8. Does your country have measures in place aimed at preventing the forgery and misuse of EUCs or other types of end-user documentation? Yes
 6.8.1 Details:
 If required, Authenticity of EUC is verified through Indian Mission of the importing country.
- 6.9. Does your country permit the export of SALW without a licence or under simplified procedure under certain circumstances? No

Post-delivery controls

- 6.10. When exporting, does your country require a Delivery Verification Certificate (DVC) to confirm that SALW have reached their intended end-user or intended importer in the importing State? No
- 6.11. After exporting, does your country verify or seek to authenticate DVCs provided? No
- 6.12. When importing, does your country grant the right to the exporting State to conduct a physical check at the point of delivery? No

Sources Marking at import

- ITI 8b 6.13. Does your country require that SALW imported into your country be marked at the time of import? Yes
- 6.13.1. Who is required to mark the SALW?
 As per Rule 25 of Arms Rules, 1962, When an imported firearm kept for sale by a dealer does not bear the manufacturer's name, such distinguishing mark of the importer as allotted by the State Government shall be engraved by the dealer. The Government of India has issued necessary instructions to all procurement agencies of the Armed Forces not to import any small arms which do not have markings indicating country of origin. Towards this, the following article in the Request for Proposal (RFP) for import of SALW has been included. "In terms of para 8(a) of the International Instrument to enable States to identify and trace in a timely and reliable manner, illicit small arms and light weapons as adopted by the United National General Assembly on 8th December 2005, at the time of manufacture

Sources

Marking

PoA II.8

17. Does your country enforce measures to prevent the manufacture, stockpiling, transfer and possession of any unmarked or inadequately marked SALW?

Yes

17.1. Details

The Arms Act (1959) provides (Section 8) that arms which do not bear specified identification marks may not be sold or transferred. Further, under Arms Act (1959), any person found in possession of a weapon without identification marks would be presumed to have removed/obliterated the marks unless proven otherwise.

ITI 8d

18. Does your country take measures to ensure that all SALW in the possession of government armed and security forces for their own use are duly marked?

Yes

18.1. Describe the markings that are applied to government-held stocks.

The SALW produced by Indian ordnance factories are marked by stamping/ engraving or laser marking to indicate the type/ nomenclature of the weapon, 'IN' for India for country of origin, registration number, manufacturer/ factory of origin and the year of manufacture on one or more of the vital and critical components of a small arm - the body, the chamber, the cylinder, the breech block and the barrel - during the final stages of production. A record of each and every weapon manufactured by the factory is kept along with the information on the concerned dealer/ indenter to show receipts, disposal, balance of stock in hand, the daily sales of Arms and Ammunition of different categories and provide such other information as may be required. Allotment of these registration numbers for the armed forces/ police and para-military forces is done centrally and a record is maintained of these registration numbers along with the indent. This provides for a double check on the records.

ITI 8c

18.2. When government stocks are transferred to civilians or private companies in your territory, are such stocks marked to indicate that your government transferred the stocks?

Yes

ITI 8e

19. Does your country encourage manufacturers of SALW to develop measures against the removal or alteration of markings?

Yes

19.1 Details

Manufactures are bound to follow provision of the Arms Rules, 1962.

Record-keeping

PoA II.9

20. Does your country have standards and procedures related to keeping of records for all marked SALW in its territory?

Yes

20.1. What records relating to SALW are kept by the State (e.g. manufacturing, brokering, import and export licences granted, sales to other States, SALW held by State agencies such as the armed forces etc)?

All ordnance factories maintain detailed records of small arms manufactured by them. Private firms and persons authorised to manufacture firearms against license issued under the Arms Rules of 1962 are required to maintain a Gun

Manufacturing Register which records information including Serial Numbers, Date, Month and Year of manufacture. They are also required to maintain a Register of Rectification in which the Serial Numbers stamped on guns which are not passed by the Proof House on first submission are to be entered with a cross reference to the Gun Manufacturing Register. A designated Inspecting Officer inspects these registers regularly. According to existing laws (Arms Act of 1959, Section 3), a proper license is a prerequisite for possession of any SALW. District authorities may issue license after duly making police enquiries. Due to the gravity of the problem of proliferation of illicit SALW – and the onslaught of terrorism, Government of India has, since 1987, withdrawn substantially, the license issuing powers of State/ District authorities – who may not, now, issue license for prohibited bore weapons. Since 1987, their powers have been limited to issuing licenses for non-prohibited bore weapons and these licenses are valid for a limited geographical area. Under the existing law, all civilians are required to get their weapons/ inspected once a year by a competent authority – this is also recorded in the license. A record of arms sold in the civilian market (non-prohibited bore) is also required to be kept by each arms dealer under Rule 26 of the Arms Rules (1962) in a Sale and Transfer Register. These records are regularly checked by the concerned state/ district authorities. License for possession of prohibited bore weapons may only be issued, under special conditions, by the Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India, who also maintains a record of all such weapons in possession of civilian population. Licences for prohibitive bore weapons are issued by the Central Govt. in the case of a person having threat from terrorists/ anti social elements and to certain defence personnel who were allotted weapons during their tenure by Defence establishment. Armed forces/ police and para-military forces maintain a permanent record of all weapons in their possession.

- ITI 12 a,b 20.2. How long does the government keep such records?
Permanent
- ITI 13 20.3. In the event that they go out of business, are companies engaged in SALW activities (e.g. manufacturing, importing, exporting etc) required to submit all records held by them to the government? Yes

Any further comments on PoA and ITI, including implementation challenges and opportunities?

Even though Q No. 22 regarding 'Procedure to trace SALW' has been answered as 'NO', following may be noted in this regard:- (i) India has robust mechanism for tracing of SALW. (ii) Indian authorities are in constant coordination with INTERPOL on SALW issues. (iii) India has so far initiated/ received NIL requests for SALW tracing under provisions of International Tracing Instrument (ITI). (iv) Disarmament and International Security Affairs Division, Ministry of External affairs has been designated as National Point of Contact for exchanging information and liaising on matters ITI. (v) Implementation of appropriate mechanism for interagency coordination for initiation/treatment of tracing request for SALW is under process. (vi) India remains willing to consider international cooperation in developing procedures to trace SALW.
